REGIONAL OSTEOPATHIC CONVENTION

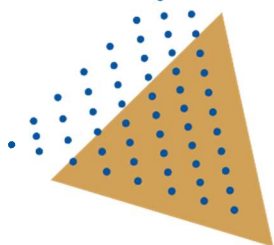

*The EVOLUTION of MEDICINE in NEW YORK
Adapting and Defining New Technology*

ABOUT US

The New York State Osteopathic Medical Society is the only professional society in the State that represents the interest of osteopathic physicians. The organization offers advanced membership services and is the Osteopathic voice in Albany.

NYSOMS has a long, distinguished history serving the public and osteopathic physicians for over 120 years! From the beginning, NYSOMS championed the use of osteopathic principles, the needs of patients and the physicians that care for them. NYSOMS advocated for DO's by campaigning to make sure DOs were granted the same rights to practice medicine as their allopathic counterparts. The Society was a catalyst in the establishment of the first osteopathic medical school in New York, and is proud to work with the now four COM campuses in the State. With the rapidly changing healthcare landscape, the need for NYSOMS as a voice for patients and physicians is as great as it has ever been.
